The Soul of the Swartland

Wine Fairy

The Soul of the Swartland

Rugged and raw, the region is deep-rooted, untamed and unapologetic of spirit. It is a laid-back state of mind that will reset your compass. Open landscapes of wheatfields, vines and olives roll into mountain views.

Highlights include:

- Rough roads & adventures
- 2-3 Winery visits
- Soulful wines

Previous Guest Comments

My wife and I toured the South African wine country with Katie and had a blast! Shes charming, horrendously funny and totally knowledgeable about wines. We learned many things from Katie - Nicholas M, Philly

Overview

The Swartland Region begins only 50 kilometres outside of Cape Town making it accessible to visitors, and its undulating wheat fields, vineyards and deep river valleys have been the topic of many a photographer's lens. Open landscapes, wheat, rooibos tea and renosterbos are commonplace here.

The Places & the People

From the larger, dependable producers through to cutting-edge mavericks and boutique wineries off the beaten track, including the likes of Mullineux & Leeu Family wines, Adi Badenhorst, Rall, Sadie Family wines, Vine Venom, and many more raising stars

The Wine & The Food

Wines here must be naturally produced, a minimum of manipulation in both vineyard and cellar. Smaller producers with power packed wines, yet elegance and finesse reign supreme. What started out as cult style wines have fast become coveted classics.
